Kindergarten celebrated the 50th day of school on Wednesday. Many of the students dressed up in their best 50's outfits. We learned about all things 1950's including; listening to music from the 50's, watching a few clips of cartoons from that time, looking at pictures from that time, and much more. We ended the day with having ice cream floats, just like the ones served in the soda shops in the 1950's. Thank you to all the parents that helped us celebrate by sending supplies in for our special treat.

Any student who was absent or forgot to bring in picture money is welcome to have their photo taken. In addition, once the portrait packages that were purchased on the original picture day are sent home, if they are unacceptable to you, you may send the entire package back to school on Re-Take Day and have the photo taken again.
