

Online Access to Textbooks

Students in grades 1-5 are provided online access to math, science, and social studies textbooks. Teachers have instructed second – fifth graders to fasten a copy of the Summit Hill Online Textbook Access Guide to the inside back cover of their student agendas. First graders are bringing home their copy of the Online Textbook Guide with Friday papers on September 9th.

Now that the Fulton County website (www.fultonschools.org) has a password-protected parent portal, a textbook resource guide will be posted on the portal for parent access. On the Fulton County website, parents will find textbook usernames/passwords (different from the Summit Hill user names/passwords) that can be used to access the electronic versions of science, social studies and math textbooks. Remember that the parent must have his/her individual user name and password in order to access the parent portal on the Fulton County website.

Parents, please note that science, social studies, and math books may be accessed electronically using EITHER the Summit Hill OR the Fulton County user name/password combinations. (The current reading, language, and health books are older editions and so are not available online.
