Q: Why can’t teachers conduct RISE during Anchor Time?

A: Many teachers are remediating or enriching students during Anchor Time. Academic focus teachers are creating a quiet and academic setting for students to work NOT conducting re-teaching or make up sessions. RISE would be disruptive to the Academic Focus time purpose. RISE times are established for equity and consistency for ALL AHS students at the beginning of each school year. We already have plans for a testing room where teachers can send materials and students to make up tests and quizzes in room 2321. The Anchor Time committee is currently working on the logistics that will allow us to create space during Anchor Time for RISE rooms (Only for students not needing intervention but needing the re-teaching of content.)
