and shooting an invisible basketball. The artistry and creativity of the Globetrotters was so convincing and entertaining that fans would arrive early just to watch the Shadow Ball routine. Goose Tatum, a former member of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, is credited with the creation of the “Magic Circle” - a trademark ball-handling routine that’s performed at the beginning of all Harlem Globetrotters games. Choose two of the shadow sports cards and complete one challenge from each section, set up, bronze, silver, goal medal challenges, and for giggles & grins. Don’t have a partner or group to play shadow sports with, it's okay, you can imagine a shadow partner to play with as well. Imagine playing shadow ball with Lebron James or your favorite athlete from all the shadow sports listed.
